About Guitar for Kids

The Songbirds Foundation is proud to partner with Siskin Children's institute to offer free guitar lessons and music therapy to students ages 4-17 years. This program is intended to teach students guitar basics, promote music literacy, encourage group engagement, and increase self-esteem. Beginning classes will focus on guitar basics and provide students with fundamental skills. Dependent on your child's involvement in an individualized or group series, the instructor will discuss with you details about the length of your child's specific series.

Conduct and Shared Information

We ask that parents and children agree to respect other families and children, the staff, the center, and musical equipment at all times. I further understand that my child's instructor and/or the Center staff are required by professional ethics and law to report evidence or suspicion of child abuse or neglect, adult abuse or neglect, threats of physical harm to self or others, with or without a family's consent.

Understanding of Fees and Cancellation Responsibilities

As this instruction is provided free of charge, you are entitled to discontinue the series at anytime. If this is the case, please notify us as soon a possible so that we may offer your child's spot to another child who may be waiting. Improper notification or lack of notification of canceled appointment(s) may result in termination from the group.

Information Regarding the Songbirds Foundation

The Songbirds Foundation reserves the right to discontinue this program at any time for any reason. Also, their educators have the right to refuse/discontinue to teach any student at any time, and this right is at the sole discretion of the educator. From time to time, the Songbirds Foundation will record lessons for education and promotional purposes. A Songbirds Foundation written consent form will be provided, along with a written consent from for Siskin Children's Institute.
